

Little lights and The Ark – 16 May 2020

Dear Parents,

Well another week has gone by with all of us probably none the wiser about our future. At least the weather has been good.

For those of you working, I hope you are enjoying your down time and for those of you who wish you could work, I hope you have been able to forget your predicament, if even for a moment to just breathe in the fresh air.

I went to Broadwater park yesterday and had a walk around the lake. I was heartened to see cricket and tennis being played in the park and little ones having a good run.

It almost felt like a normal day but it isn't is it.

Jesus says, we should hand everything over to him as he cares. In this story he shows that together with his father, he is in control of the wind and the waves, and that we can trust that he is in control if we allow him to be.

Video

Our video this week is called 'the storm on the lake' and can be found in Luke 8 V 22-25

<https://youtu.be/nzBq52Y7ByY>

'Ark and little lights craft'

You will need:-

Paper plates

Gummed paper (or coloured paper and glue)

Cocktail stick to make the mast but obviously very sharp for littlies

Do take care, with love

Catherine and Ark and Little lights team

PS: Please find 'The Rock' activity page for 4 – 10 yr olds with bible stories, games and activities available for this Sunday morning with the theme being hope. Please visit <https://www.godalkingbaptistchurch.org.uk/children>